Endotracheal Tube Holders

Adjustable Adult ETT holders (D = 10/box)
p/n 340

The 340 is Marpac's newest options for ET tube holder. The combination of hydrocolloid and soft foam allows fast placement and provides safety for the patient. Simply, wrap the belt around the ET tube, pull tight, and close the buckle. A secondary locking feature assures the buckle stays closed. When you want to reposition the tube laterally, simply press the button on the sliding tab and pick one of the five locking positions. Small package size utilizes space efficiently.

p/n 320 and p/n 321

The 320 is Marpac's options for the most skin friendly choice for ET tube securement. Originally developed for burn patients, this device can be easily removed to review skin condition and then placed back on the patient. The ET tube is easily repositioned laterally with the sliding tab. When properly placed on the patient, the head strap provides lift to keep the tube, device, and ventilator circuit in the correct position. Small package size utilizes space efficiently. The 321 includes longer head and neck straps.

Adhesive ETT tapes (D = 25/box + B = 100/box)

p/n 301 Adult, Silk, Latex-Free

p/n 302 Adult, Cloth, LATEX

p/n 306 Adult, Cloth, Latex-Free

p/n 305 Pediatric, Cloth, Latex-Free

Marpac's ET tube adhesive tapes provide multiple options for you to choose. The pre-packaged tape is convenient for crash carts, ICU stock and emergency departments. Various fabrics and with and without latex are available. All adhesive surfaces have a release liner to prevent sticking to anything until you are ready to apply. Pre-scored sections allow correct tearing to size for each patient. Very small package size utilizes hospital storage efficiently, and good for mobile or air transport services.

p/n 308 (D = 25/bag)

Marpac's Neo/Ped pre-packaged ET tube adhesive tape has taken a good idea and made it better. The series comes in three sizes and is individually packaged to reduce cross contamination issues. Paper release liner on each section of the product allows just the relevant portion of adhesive to be exposed. With two layers of material in high stress areas, and latex-free, safety is a top priority.

Tracheostomy Tube Holders

One-Piece Holders (D = 25/box + B = 100/box)

p/n 100 Pediatric, hook & twill

p/n 101 Adult, M, hook & twill

p/n 102 Adult, L, hook & twill

p/n 106 Neonatal, twill tie

p/n 107 Pediatric, twill tie

p/n 108 Adult, twill tie

Marpac's One-Piece Trach Tube holders are made to fit most patients with comfortable twill easily passing through the flange and securing with either hook or tying (popular in the U.K.)

Two-Piece Holders (D = 10/box + B = 100/box)

p/n 201 Adult (hook w/twill)

p/n 203, Pediatric

p/n 204, Adult

p/n 230, Adult Comfort Collar

p/n 235, Pediatric Comfort Collar

p/n 220 & 220S, Bariatric

Marpac's Two-Piece Trach Tube holders utilize secure hook closures and premium foam. Cut the foam to the perfect size. Comfort collars include integrated neoprene pads under the flange.

ET and Trach Tube Accessories

NG tube to ET tube Holder

p/n 910 (D = 10/bag)

A tube holder like no other. Often, hospital staff connect the nasogastric tube to the endotracheal tube. When the nursing or respiratory staff want to move their “own” tube, often, there are concerns about the other. This simple device allows easy adjustment to one or both tubes and reattachment.

Ventilator Anti-Disconnect Device

p/n 900 Adult (D = 10/bag + B = 100/bag)

p/n 905 Pediatric

Marpac’s simple design allows easy placement over the ventilator circuit and a secure attachment to all Marpac trach tube holders. The device will work with many other brand trach tube holders. This simple design also accommodates T-fittings with a superior wrap around grip.

Other Products

Foley Catheter Holder

p/n 400

Our Foley Catheter holder will accept virtually all configurations. Providing a safe and comfortable wrap material around the leg and a secure mechanism to hold the catheter in place and prevent pulling.

CPAP

p/n 8-H3407 Halo Chin Strap

Many competitors have tried to duplicate our patented Halo Chin strap. Fortunately, we chose a fabric for its special stretch and comfortable qualities along with manufacturing techniques that make it stand above all others. Built under Marpac's Breathewear division, it easily adjusts to fit most everyone. Washable and reusable for sleep labs or for patients to use at home.

Contract Manufacturing and Custom Manufacturing

Marpac was approached in 2000 for private labeling of medical products for a nationwide distributor. This type of work continues today. Helping with product requirements, packaging, bulk purchasing, warehousing, solid design with efficient manufacturing are services provided for these types of business relationships.

Marpac began taking outside manufacturing work in 2008. Working with local, regional, and national companies, we help them develop their products for their own growth.

Company History

Marpac was purchased in 1991 from DuPuy Medical in Albuquerque, New Mexico, USA. With DuPuy already manufacturing tracheostomy tube holders, the transfer of the Class 1 FDA medical manufacturer went smoothly. With three employees, the new owner was determined to establish a path of growth. Over the next few years, contracts were established with national distributors within the United States.

Over the years, we have updated our machinery and capabilities to include:
Sewing / Ultrasonic welding / Hot-Cold Cutting / CNC cutting / CNC sewing / Auto-Bagging.

Using some of the same vendors for over 30 years allows Marpac to have good business relationships and rely on them for support as we grow together.

Companies may try to differentiate themselves as, Better, Faster, Cheaper.
Marpac is known worldwide for the highest quality materials and workmanship and on time delivery. Marpac tries to accommodate each client's needs and strives for "Win-Win" relationships.
